Comments: Please stop SPLAT and use your common sense - when an acronym spells SPLAT out for you...you may need to stop and evaluate your Multi-Use Management Plan. Thank you for the documents and answers to questions on the site from USDA / USFS Agency Staff. In analysis and for, common sense, you may need to consider using Genetics to evaluate trees for harvest and Forest Health as your Explained Management Plan did not adequately explain Scientifically or Financially, as a return over multiple generations, a sustainable strategy for logging.

For strategic consideration: The recreational and Ecological impact of proximal harvest to the Continental Divide Trail

For strategic consideration: The connected niche relationship of Wildlife to the trees and Forest Health and the locational position of the Herds of the last, Wild Bison in the United States

Thank you.
