Comments: I fully support the Crossover Project and the wildlife and habitat improvements that it will bring to the Nantahala National Forest. The size of the project is in my opinion, appropriate but only a beginning step. It needs to be followed with many similar projects. Two months ago I had a chance to visit wildlife management areas on public ground in Minnesota, and I was extremely impressed with the amount of wildlife and suitable habitat they have created and manage. I hope that North Carolina can eventually reach a similar level of achievement.
