Comments: With the loss of tourist revenue to Prineville due to the extreme drought impact on Prineville and Ochoco reservoirs, non motorized trails in Lemon Gulch could be a great boon to the tourism industry in Prineville. Bend trails are overused and crowded and a new trail system would be a great alternative to the many mountain bikers in Central Oregon who are looking for more variety, as well as becoming a destination for out of town enthusiasts. Restaurants, lodging and other venues would all benefit from this new trail system.
