Comments: The Lemon Gulch project is an exciting opportunity for Prineville and Central OR. The reality is that the area is going to keep growing and each city needs to grow in its own unique ways. I know not everyone wants their city to look like Bend and that is why I like the Lemon Gulch plan at the full (50+ miles of mountain bike trails) or mid (25+ miles of mountain bike trails) options. Unlike Bend they are contained to a small area slightly outside of town and are planned to integrate with a larger multi-use plan. This keeps them from sprawling while still allowing Prineville to benefit from easy access and tourism.

Thanks, Charlie
