Comments: I am 5th generation landowner on the East side of the Crazy Mountains. I think that the work the Forest Service has done to bring this collective effort to the table is applaudable. I understand that this is not a perfect solution for everyone. However, when people look at the facts, I think they will find that this proposal offers a solution that will guarantee the public's access to an amazing place, while preserving its wild beauty and integrity for generations to come. I support this proposal and am glad to see it move forward in the process.
