Comments: Dear Forest Service,

In my experience as a professional rock climber, the need for intact old growth forest as a beautiful sanctuary in a landscape is unparalleled. I've made a living by writing about and photographing or being photographed in beautiful places all over the world. This lovely hood is based on healthy ecosystems, our individual health from clean air and water that is supported by forest health, and the health of the local communities that house and feed us. Please do not log trees that are adding beauty and health to this system.
