Comments: I really enjoy going to Kentucky and seeing the mountains and all the trees. I've been going to Kentucky since I was 5 and it wouldn't be the same without the trees there. The trees are home to many creatures, help keep the air fresh, and they hold the soil on the mountain together. Without them, animals would be misplaced and there would be many more landslides. Please don't cut them down, they mean a lot to the environment and the people.
