Comments: I am writing in opposition of the Stibnite mining project. While the project will bring needed jobs to the area, it represents a proposal from a foreign company with a history of prior failures in the area resulting in significant environmental and recreational impacts. The promise of "restoration" should be scrutinized while considering the impacts of project expansion.

Currently the EFSF represents a country of solitude, beauty, and endless recreation opportunities. The fantastic bull trout fishery, hunting opportunity, and observation of champion fish species make their 800 mile journey to spawn represent a sliver of the uniqueness in the area.

I oppose the project, and am asking for extended review and/or commenting period.
