Comments: The proposal is severely imbalanced in favor of the private parties:

- The public loses miles of fishable streams
- The public trades high quality, low-land wildlife habitat for higher, steeper, less productive habitat.
- The public loses hunting and angling opportunity (as acknowledged in the USFS's PEA)
- The public loses more water rights than it gains
- The public gives 100% of mineral rights and receives only 18% in return
- The public gives up two important and historic trails and four administrative roads in return for one trail.
- The public loses over 40 acres of wetlands
- There is no disclosure of land or timber value lost by the public.

I fully appreciate the complexity of the issues and the access challenges presented in the Crazy Mountains; however, this proposal is inadequate, faulty and would lead to a significant loss to the public, a loss that far outweighs anything gained.
