Comments: As someone that has spent a lifetime in the outdoors and hunting, I have to disagree with this proposal.

At all times, it is imperative the organizations do their absolute best to prevent loss of public land opportunities. This is arguably one of the most unique things about our great state, we have more public land access for hunters, anglers, and enthusiasts than almost all other states, and we should fight to maintain that. Any loss of public land is more than just a loss to residents, it is a loss to people who come from all over, and a loss to our children and their children's opportunities.

I plead to you, find another solution, maintain our public lands.
