Comments: The National Forests were established to provide recreational opportunities for all people and all legal activities, not for a select few for their personal or business needs.

Things change over time and what was once popular years ago fall from popularity and new ones will replace them, specifically the off-road biking user groups. This is just another recreational possibility that needs to be taken advantage of for the users and the potential economic value for the local communities

I understand there is an organization in your area that willing to invest time and funds to help develop and maintain additional new trails for their use. The National Forest should take full advantage of the great opportunity to include them.

Thank you
