Comments: Pit mining is notoriously bad for every ecosystem in vicinity of the mine, and despite what this company may claim, they have no way of preventing damage to the ecosystem of the East Fork South Fork Salmon beyond a shadow of a doubt. Supporting this new mining project is the same as supporting oil pipelines; it dooms nature without a care in the world for the consequences for the wildlife, all while lining the pockets of rich executives who wouldn't care for the environmental impact of their actions if the last polar bear on Earth was staring them in the face.

Do not go through with this project. Long live the South Fork Salmon River and save the salmon!!
