Comments: Popular trail head are populated for a reason, its because they are great! Mountain Biking continues to be a very popular activity and I love that so many different people are biking now. Its not just the stereo type biker any more. Its families, organizations like culture seed, after school programs and many more. The need for more trail heads is very important now so that the over crowded areas get relief. Especially in new areas that can promote commerce to towns. This project will help the entire biking experience in the northwest and will only continue to make biking more enjoyable in the northwest.
