Comments: I oppose the Preliminary Environmental Assessment for the East Crazy Inspiration Divide Land Exchange. The swap would impact public recreational opportunities, including the abandonment of current trails, roads and easements; transfer rights to minerals, water, and timber resources, with large benefits touted in the PEA relying solely on post-transfer actions promised by the non-federal parties (the Yellowstone Club and neighboring landowners), but lacking legal guarantees and failing to discuss enforcement and terms. These parties have proven to be unreliable and to not honor their promises. For these reasons, the PEA deserves detailed public review and reply.
