Comments: In support of this trails project. Central Oregon population is growing. Increased recreational opportunities are needed to meet demand. Planned trails protect the environment and natural resources by being designed for the terrain and water.

As a trails volunteer in Oregon and Washington; I have spent too much time repairing rogue trails and rerouting through sensitive areas. It is always a dream to work on a newly designed trail that looks at users, terrain and waterflow.

This project is within the multiuser objective of USFS. Outdoor recreation it's deserve more opportunities.
