Comments: This proposal only stands to benefit the private land owners, leaving the public with less usable land to recreate on. The parcels that are in consideration for being exchanged are high quality foothills national forest pieces that will be exchanged for high elevation rock and ice private land. The exchange will hurt public access to the crazy mountains. Access is already limited to a few trail heads leaving much of the mountain range inaccessible to the general public. The last thing locals need is less trail heads available to the growing number of outdoor recreators.

From a Resident that frequently recreates in the crazy mountains during all seasons of the year.
