Comments: I am writing in strong support of the East Crazy Inspiration Divide Land Exchange #63115. It is clearly a win-win for the public with the increased public access for Montanans in an area of the state that holds cultural value amongst many different constituencies. I appreciate the way in which the stakeholders have taken ample steps to include many voices from various sectors to arrive at their current plan. As a local public school teacher in Big Sky, I am excited to teach my students about success stories in which the public and private sectors come together to increase access to all Montanans and visitors. With the consolidation of parcels that alleviate the stresses created by checker boarding, this land exchange is a no-brainer.
