Comments: I believe that people have a responsibility to engage in good nature and with a solutions oriented approach to work with their neighbors in real conversation and discussion to solve these complex problems as a community. If more people believed in the process with optimism and compassion; progress would be inevitable. I thank the Forest Service for making the effort to problem solve and that all participants will remain undaunted by the negativity of these voices only willing to participate from the confines of their cynicism. Let the work get done and continue to get done.
