Comments: To whom it may concern,

This comment is intended to voice my support of the East Crazy Inspiration Divide land exchange #63115. My husband and I own and operate a ranch in northern Sweet Grass County and lease land at the base of the Crazy Mountains. Big Timber is my home and has been for 50 years.

At first, I was skeptical especially after learning of the Yellowstone Club's involvement. Upon further research and attending a couple public information meetings, I have come to understand that this is supported by the landowners affected, many of whom are our friends and neighbors. The Crazy Mountain Working Group is made up of several individuals whose opinions I greatly respect. I do see this land swap as a win-win for both landowners and recreationalists.

Perhaps what I am most impressed with is the collaborative process that has taken place. I hope this can be viewed as a model for resolutions of similar situations in the future.

Sincerely,

Betsy Indreland
