Comments: The people of Virginia have made it very clear over and over that they don't want this pipeline. They've stolen our land and destroyed our environment and they need to fix the mess as well as it can be and leave us alone. They and now the Forest Service- keep coming up with "fixes" and they have proven they will not adhere to the rules put before them. They don't mind paying fines and barreling through, careless of what they destroy. They are not good neighbors for any Virginians and this mess needs to stop and be patched where able. The people of Virginia have a right to have a say in these decisions and we have made it clear we don't want it here. There is nothing good coming from this pipeline except for some jobs and there are plenty others out there. These people are uncaring and choose to do evil things to our state. The Forest Service has continued to give them what they want regardless of their ignoring of good practices and rules and it's time to put an end and stop giving them all they want and give the people you work for what they want. Shut it down.
