Comments: I write to comment against stibnite's proposed mining projects. I understand the need for rare minerals- even for projects based in sustainability. In this case I think the negatives outweighs the positives and the parties behind the project are purely interested in their pocket books. I write against this project for our state Idaho, it's children, our watersheds, our salmon and steelhead and our wilderness. This area is to ecologically sensitive and precious, and truly belongs to the Tribes that preceded current mining claims/interests. I am against this project and I hope my voice can be heard and taken into consideration when deciding how to move forward for Idaho's precious resources.
