Comments: You seem to be concerned about keeping out trails open during this project and that is the right way to do this. I was very concerned about losing some of the trails and the loggers getting way too close to existing trail. They should be kept at least 20 feet away but that's me. As for the Boggy parking lot, you can make it bigger with a well maintained pit toilet but don't make it just one big lot. It's nice to have the shade when parking on the south side of Road W and hope you can keep that. We sometimes have our dog with us and do a short ride with him, then he goes back into the truck while we ride some more. Must have some shade just because it's nice. The cattle loading area off 527.C is nice and shady too and we use that for riding the eastern/northern trails at Boggy. Seeing more folks camping at that spot too.
