Comments: The south fork salmon is too incredible of an environment to be wasted away with a mine and new roads in there. Don't we as Americans value true wilderness and areas to escape from the chaos of the rat race? Can't we give back to the outdoors by protecting at least SOME chunks of land across the country, including the upper South Fork? Don't we want to continue to support clean water for our endangered fish, salmon specifically? We need clean water for an immeasurable amount of reasons and putting a mine at the headwaters of this incredible river would absolutely destroy the riparian zone and contaminate the water significantly. We've seen this time and time again. Please protect the south fork salmon and DO NOT allow Stibnite to proceed. No good will come of this, except ruining one of Idahos great wonders. Thank you.
