

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/7/2023 5:33:09 PM

First name: Sam

Last name: Booher

Organization:

Title:

Comments: As human populations across America continue to grow, our growing populations need to learn to live on already disturbed land. Wildlife numbers in almost all species are declining due to human land disturbances. American Wildlife is disappearing due to human destruction of their habitat.

So this is another attempt to build a road and then a mining site on public land. Why this site can not be built on private land needs to be the preferred choice.

If this mining operation is standard, Gold mining used toxic chemicals. In South Carolina a Foreign company mined for Gold and left behind a large lake permanently toxic. It is killing migratory birds every year. To date no one has come up with a solution as to prevent more birds deaths.