Comments: Besides greed and the urge to add to the damage already done by this company, why would anyone approve increased damage by this corporation? Why isn't this corporation doing the cleanup? How extensively has the environmental impact been studied in regard to the size of the project?

Has anyone out there heard of Climate change? How about the need for clean water, air and soil? The track record of corporations regarding additional damage to the environment is atrocious!

This is NOT the time to be increasing destruction of our environment and the benefits gained by the American people in having these wide, multi-functional, pristine areas in OUR country!
