Comments: As an avid fisherman and concerned citizen, I am completely against the building or continued efforts to establish the Stibnite Gold mine. The world already has enough gold than could be thought possible, and arguably is less valuable than a continuing salmon population that is already in danger due to the snake river dams. Building this mine would not only kill or pose risks to these salmon, but also to the people that rely on these beautiful fish for food and catch and release fishing. You know what you're doing is wrong, so please stop before it's too late. Whoever is reading this, please, think of the future generations of fisherman and women that wouldn't be able to eat or fish for these creatures, all for greed for a shiny resource. You can help too, so please join our efforts and do the right thing, if not for the current community, but for future generations. Thank you from the bottom of my heart.
