Comments: Some things are more precious than gold and antimony. Like protecting one of Idaho's most precious and unique ecosystems for current and future generations. Like not gambling with experimental fish management methods of already-endangered species. Like keeping Idaho's River of No Return cold, clear, and clean. I could elaborate, but in the essence of brevity, I urge you, as a public land owner, to honor this irreplaceable resource by stopping the Stibnite Gold Project. Please.
