Comments: This pristine river and wilderness area is home to abundant wildlife and recreational activities such as fishing and multi day whitewater kayaking trips. The fishery is excellent as is the scenery and whitewater. Elevated levels of arsenic and mining effects in the ecology would make it dangerous to use these public lands. We use water for food preparation while in that wilderness as well as ingest water while navigating the river.

fish / wildlife also suffer from pollutants in the water.

I'm opposed to increasing mining activities on the SG salmon
