Comments: More work has to be done on the SDEIS on how this project will effect the local economy, community, housing, schools, roads, and medical care. This project will be a detriment to our community in that it threatens the the environment and landscape that is our current economy of tourism.

To say that cyanide leech fields are to exist in perpetuity means with a 0.01% chance of breaching and spilling the toxins, then that is a guarantee that it will occur. Also Valley Co roads are not built for the truck size and traffic and environmental spills are highly likely.
