Comments: The long-term implications of this mine are far more severe than just short term job creation. Sure, the creation of this mine may employ lots of people for a few years, however, the long-term implications are devastating. This would almost surely wipe out the Bulltrout within the tributary's that are downstream of the mine. This is something that, once destroyed, will never be able to be put back. It would be a crime against this planet, to do such a thing as input, the mine, and risk the potential destruction of an ecosystem that is recognized internationally.
