Comments: Although this area has been impacted by historical mining, we do not need a new mine to restore it. I oppose allowing the Stibnite Gold Project to proceed as proposed because it will cause irreversible harm to water quality, wildlife, public health, and a sustainable outdoor recreation-based economy and pollute the area for generations to come. This project needs to be significantly revised or stopped.

Mining will disturb this area and destroy habitat for wildlife. This area is very special for people enjoying the outdoors, and one of the best features of this area is its remoteness. Please take this into consideration and identify other potential resources to mine from. We also must protect bull trout ranges, as they are so limited now from mining and other harmful activities just like this project.
