Comments: Hello, I would like to voice my opposition of the proposed stibnite mine. Idaho is known for having some of the worlds most beautiful rivers in the world. Kayakers and rafters from across the country, and even the world travel to our state to try their hand on our world class whitewater. This proposed mine would irrevocably damage what is considered one of the most premier stretches of water that we have to offer, and it is a highly unnecessary move. Apart from forever altering the landscape, the mine would also have a disastrous effect on the local wildlife, putting additional pressure on several species that are already under significant stress. This is an unnecessary, and ignorant decision that should not be given even the slightest bit of consideration.
