Comments: The Frank Church Wilderness and the Salmon River are a prime attraction for residents of Idaho (like me and my family) and many visitors to Idaho. It is crucial to protect these wonderful resources of such high public interest. Ecological, cultural and recreational resources would be greatly endangered by the Stibnite Gold Project. I urge the USFS to stop the Perpetua Resources Project. If approved, the mine site would damage the area for generations to come. Please protect and care for this land, for the enjoyment of the public and also for sake of the wildlife.

The comment period should be extended to a full 120 days to give the public more time to consider this project. I, for one, just learned about the current comment deadline today, and I am sure there are more interested Idahoans who will comment if the deadline is extended.

Sincerely,
Alice J. Stevenson
