Comments: The Stibnite Gold Project as an open pit cyanide leaching gold mine that would negatively impact central Idaho and should not be allowed to proceed. It poses substantial environmental hazards to wildlife and would alter the Upper East Fork South Fork of the Salmon Watershed which would negatively effect water quality. Furthermore, the construction of approximately 15 miles of new road adjacent to the Frank Church Wilderness, an inventoried. no road area poses further degradation to habitat and animals. Gold mines are among the dirtiest and environmentally degrading mines.

I respectfully request that the Forest Service provide no permitting or other assurances that would allow this mine to go forward.

Sincerely and Emphatically,

Bob Swandby
