Comments: Since spills of toxic materials will be inevitable during a project of this size and nature, creating an adequate contingency clean-up super-fund must be a component of the final SGP plan to protect the natural resources at and downstream from the project site. Similarly, appropriate impact fees should be agreed in advance to cover the costs of project's estimated strains on the human infrastructure resources in the region: public education, housing, road maintenance/repair, sewer system, police, fire department, EMS, hospital and telecommunications.
