Comments: I strongly oppose the Stibnite mining operation. This is a fragile ecosystem that deserves protection, not desecration and degradation. Heed the wishes and desires of those who actually enjoy using this area for family camping, road-biking, wildlife observation, scenery appreciation, birding, hunting, whitewater kayaking and rafting, rock climbing, backcountry skiing, hiking, firewood cutting, berry and mushroom picking, mountain biking, and access to wilderness and private land. "Serving the People" should not mean allowing environmental destruction by an uncaring, short term mining company.
