Comments: I am opposed to the Stibnite Mine Project because of the potential harmful effects to the environment. I live in McCall and recreate in the area near the proposed mine in all seasons, cycling, backcountry skiing, fishing, painting, camping, and more. The region has unique features in its rivers and landscapes that are inherently valuable. The flora and fauna of this region deserve protection and support, not additional degradation. The risks posed by mining operations could cause irreparable, irreversible damage to these features that cannot be offset by the market values of gold and antimony. It just isn't worth the risk.
