Comments: I wholeheartedly OBJECT to the Stibnite Mine Project. Has our incessant colonization, theft and rape of this land for our lust not gone far enough? It's 2023 and "traditional land acknowledgements" are commonplace on organization websites, spoken prior to the start of presentations and in our email signatures. How can we acknowledge traditional homelands and take steps toward healing our wrongdoing, genocide and pillaging while turning our backs and allowing treaties to be broken. And broken. And broken again. The damage this mine will cause through infrastructure, open pits and pollution is not just an environmental catastrophe, it's a moral one.
