Comments: I'm against any gravel pit on Jackson Mountain. The increased heavy duty traffic, increased noise, and increased dust are reasons enough for pit construction elsewhere. The vast majority of the public's enjoyment from Jackson Mountain stems from non-motorized use. Increased use of the area will negatively impact area roads, and potentially wildlife. Without serious funding, and ongoing management, for area roads and associated infrastructure needed from increased use of Jackson Mountain, nobody will benefit. In addition, what will be done to discourage use of closed roads that nobody should be accessing but many are?
