Comments: This sounds like an outstanding project. We went up to the Curtis Canyon Overlook last summer and it was a pretty bumpy ride. What made the trip worse was all the OHV driven by folks who seemed to have never driven a vehicle like that before and seemed to forget there maybe other people using the road. I wish they would slow down and watch where they are going but I don't know what you can do about bad drivers. I think fixing the road would make the bad drivers easier to handle. The other improvements included in this project will also be really nice.
