Comments: The proposal to log 11,800 acres in the Telephone gap area of the Green Mountain national forest is really upsetting to me. From the time I was a child forests have provided me with a calm and healing place in a stressful world. We also know how important forests are for sequestering carbon and that it takes around 100 years before regrowth is able to reach the carbon storage capacity of old-growth forests.

I ask you to reject this proposal and allow the mature forest of Telephone gap to keep helping reduce climate change
