

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 2/6/2023 7:27:16 PM

First name: Anon

Last name: Anon

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Green Mountains are home to many species of plants and animals, as well as Vermont's many outdoorsmen who live to appreciate the beauty of this land and the species it supports. Not only is clearing the Telephone Gap detrimental to these groups but to the overall health of the environment and citizens far and wide that depend on clean air. It is a step in the wrong direction and defies Biden's 2022 Earth day executive order to protect these forests in order to support our climate and biodiversity.