Comments: This project should be called the Reality Gap Logging Project.

The Forest Service needs to acknowledge President Biden's Executive Order 14072 and withdraw its uncharismatically named Telephone Gap Logging Proposal.

The planet needs mature and old-growth forest ecosystems and the return extirpated species; woodland caribou, wolves and mountain lions, to name a few charismatic ones. Certain species of lichen, liverworts and fungi, and blackburnian warblers, magnolia warblers, Swainson's thrush, brown creeper and black-throated green warbler require mature/old-growth forest to thrive and perhaps, in the global warmed future, survive.

The Forest Service needs to update its 2006 management plan and address climate change and the sixth great extinction. Logging needs to cease.

The Forest Service needs to drop the early-successional propaganda and become an organization dedicated to accurate data and the Forest, rather than one controlled by the wood products and hunting industries.
