Comments: The clear-cutting and sale of old-growth timber in public forests is a violation on so many levels! The U.S. Forest Service should be protecting these trees and larger wildlife ecosystems, not taking them to slaughter! What is going on behind the scenes that allows this to happen? Who stands to benefit from a short-term monetary gain at the expense of jeopardizing our clean air and water? If we can have no faith in the U.S. Forest Service as righteous stewards of our entrusted lands, we, the people, who understand the true value must stand up and raise our voices for our silent brothers and sisters.

PLEASE STOP THE RAPE OF THE TELEPHONE GAP FOREST LANDS!
