Comments: I am a lifelong cyclist. I am a fairly new hunter i.e. since about '14. I am 100% against building bike trails in these areas for so many reasons. Chief among those reasons are 1. It is terribly hard on wildlife and 2. It will also have a negative impact on hunting traditions. Hunters pay a lot of money into a system which serves to protect these areas and the life inside of them. Cyclists do not. That is not my primary reason for my stance, but I'd be a liar if I said it was not on the radar of reasons.
