

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 2/23/2023 2:39:36 PM

First name: fergus

Last name: marshall

Organization:

Title:

Comments:

Latest scientific studies show that intact, mature, forest, sequester, and store the greatest amount of carbon. Industry disputes this and uses old antiquated research to justify their logging agenda. President Biden, in his executive order, directs the forest service to protect these older forests for these benefits of biodiversity in climate. The northern long eared bat is on the edge of extinction, if it loses its habitat, which is the older forest, telephone gap. Clean water, soil, erosion, flooding are all at risk with logging. Also, recreationally benefits to the public will be lost. No one wants to visit a log forest.

Please follow the latest science and not the logging industries propaganda. If we follow the money, we will see much clearer, where our priorities lie. Thank you for taking this comment and please save our older forests, our children and grandchildren will thank us.