Comments: I love to mountain bike however I have never been to Jackson mountain. I have heard many opinions from others about the trail system. From the information I know/understand I believe there comes to be some issues regarding mountain bikers, horseback riders, and potentially some other recreationalists. While I can see the benefits of all recreational activities sharing the same general trail system I do believe that trails that are specific to certain activities would be beneficial.

As well as, from what I have learned we need a gravel pit however I am not able to express a fully educated opinion. From others educating me on the matter I am under the impression that if a gravel pit on Jackson mountain does come to be we desperately would need to widen the roads for safety of others. It would cause many more complications if the roads were not widened.
