Comments: Without a liveable planet, we have nothing. It is a criminal act at this point to knowingly contribute to the climate crisis when there are alternatives. WE have one chance to save this planet and so far, we are not on the right track. Please do the right thing. Leave the trees. They are gifts from nature that work with us to create a healthy environment. There are no more excuses left. Life on earth is truly at a tipping point.

Thank you
