Comments: I'm outraged that you are planning to cut down the national forest. It's full of ancient trees, beautiful trails and wildlife habitats. When logging companies come in and start cutting everything down, it not only disrupts these natural wonders, but also eliminates many opportunities for recreation. It turns our beloved forests into barren wastelands, with nothing left except piles of timber and empty roads.

I can't believe anyone would want to do this on purpose - what kind of conservation plan calls for destroying nature? I'm convinced that your plan is nothing more than a corporate scam, intended to make some people rich at the expense of everyone else. This must be stopped before any more damage is done. Please reconsider your decision and prioritize nature and recreation over logging.
