Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/6/2023 10:19:44 AM
First name: Miles
Last name: Schelling
Organization:
Title:
Comments: The Telephone Gap project has will create destruction far beyond the immediately visible consequences of logging. For example, mushrooms which take decades to create a symbiosis with trees by connecting their root systems will be destroyed. Logging mature forests therefore creates an impact which can not be remedied by growing a new crop of trees. The mushroom communities rely specifically on the mature forests and will be destroyed for generations. Stop this logging.

Thank you,
Miles Schelling